VOL. XV. MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE, WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1919 No. 26

NEW ORGANIZATION IS ACCEPTED

Passed Unanimously By Men Present

Spirited Meeting Rallies "Pep" For Norwich Game—Faculty Members Pleased

"The old order changeth, giving way to new." On Tuesday evening of last week the first shot in the long-awaited revolution in the government of student activities was fired, and the citadel of almost autocratic student rule was captured when the newly proposed Constitution in which a group of more far-seeing college men have been working for some time was adopted at one of the best-attended and most enthusiastic gatherings of Middites the Gym has yet housed. The old "Union" with its many faults and its unrepresentative character is a thing of the past. In its place the men of Middlebury have adopted an instrument which promises to form the starting point for progressive steps which the old college on the hill is going to take in the near future.

As the Norwich game was to be played the next day the meeting first took on the nature of a rally of unbounded "pep," a fact which seemed to give an inkling of the new spirit which will be fostered under the new era of Middlebury College life.

The regular part of the meeting was called to order by Dr. Lawrence, who presided. Kasper '20 then spoke to the men giving them in a clear, forceful talk the reasons why the new Constitution was proposed. He said that student activities while on a par in importance with the other administrative matters of the college, have been neglected to an alarming degree, and that the inefficiency of the old system which permitted a man to hold an unlimited number of offices and honors, resulting in inability to give efficient attention to any one duty, was detrimental to the welfare of the men. Kasper pointed out the fact that the absence of rea spirit at Middlebury has been evidenced by the fact that few of our alumni come back when any of our important athletic contests or other events are held. For example, Tuesday evening was the eve of the Norwich game, probably second in importance in our schedule, and yet not a single alumnus was there to talk to the men of the spirit of the "good old days," and to install into them the pep and fight which is absolutely essential to the men of any institution who are to achieve the heights of real collegiate attainments. The old system has been autocratic, or rather beaurocratic, with the fraternities rather than true Middlebury spirit dominating over activities. These, he said, were the important reasons why the new Constitution was adopted. It will endeavor to do away with the iniquities and favoritism of the old system, and the beaurocratic method of handling student activities, and is on the whole the most democratic instrument that has ever been used in administering student affairs at Middlebury.

Pitkin '19 followed Kasper and read some of the more important features of the instrument which had previously been published in The Campus, interpreting the sections which might be of greatest interest to the men.

The discussion which followed was slight, since the Constitution was so faithfully the sentiments of the men that only a few minor details provoked any discussion or question. The adoption of the Constitution was then put to vote, a secret ballot being taken. The result, while not surprising, was received with wild acclaim for the teller reported that the Constitution had been adopted by a unanimous vote of the 104 men at the meeting.

Thus have the men of Middlebury laid the foundation of a newer and better Middlebury— a Middlebury which should achieve its real place among the educational institutions of the country by the manner in which the men who go out from her have imbibed her new spirit.

NORWICH DEFEATS MIDD ON TWO HITS

Errors Aid Cadet Team To Get 4-0 Victory

Hulihan Pitches Great Game But Team Fails to Hit Behind Him

Timely errors in the Middlebury camp and a home run in the eighth inning gave Norwich a 4-0 victory over the Varsity in a loosely played game of ball last Wednesday afternoon on Porter Field. Hulihan, on the mound for Middlebury, received the worst of support at critical moments of the game and himself made a wild pitch in the sixth inning which gave the cadet team one of their three unearned runs. Middlebury had two chances to score in the early stages of the game, but clever fielding on the part of the Norwich infield prevented them from doing so each time.

Though not pitching up to his regular standard Hulihan struck out 11 of the opposing batsmen and allowed but two hits. Both of these were made by Waite, the heavy hitting left fielder of the Norwich team, the last being the home run which brought them two runs. Vitty, for the visitors, also pitched good ball making the same number of strike-outs as did Hulihan, while the three hits made off him were scat-

MOODY HEADS NEW CAMPUS BOARD

Annual Elections Leaves Board With Twelve Members

Nine Re-elected—Pauline Locklin to be Asst. Editor—Ginsburg Associate

Dwight L. Moody '21 and A. Pauline Locklin '20 were chosen to head as Editor-in-Chief and Assistant Editor-in-Chief respectively, The Campus Board for the year 1919-1920 at the annual election of officers of the college newspaper held last Monday afternoon in the Campus office. The meeting marked the formal retirement of six of the members of last year's board while but three names were added to the join editorial and business staff.

The new head of the Campus matriculated from Fort Edward (N. Y.) H School and has been connected with the paper as reporter and associate editor for considerably more than a year. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity. Miss Locklin, who, as assistant to Mr. Moody, will head the news department for the women's college, has been on the staff of The Campus for a few months.

The vacancy in the business department caused by the resignation of Arnold B. Swift and the retirement by graduation of Barbara Russell will be

MIDDLEBURY WINS CLOSE TRACK MEET

St. Lawrence Leads Until Last Event At Canton

Final Score 65 1-3—60 2-3—Jones Breaks Record for Mile Run

Early last Friday morning Midd's track team left in cars for Canton to meet St. Lawrence uninversity on the cinders and field.

The meet was held Saturday afternoon in the St. Lawrence Stadium and although it was raining there was nevertheless a fair attendance at the meet. The outcome of the meet was always in question and not decided until the last event was held and during most of the time the Orange and Brown were in the lead.

Capt. Jones and Robinson were the high point men for Midd, Jones making 15 and Robinson 14. Bird, Keegan, Howard and Kane were the mainstays for St. Lawrence. Hebard did fine work in his events winning both the broad and the high jumps while Barney Potratz won the discus and placed in the hammer throw.

St. Lawrence outclassed Midd in the dashes while Midd proved superior in the hurdles and Casey outran Howard in the mile and two mile runs. In the field events Midd won the jumps and discus while her opponent outclassed her in the pole vault, shot-put and hammer throw.

"Freddie" Jones was pushed by Howard in the mile run but the outcome of the event was never in doubt. At the hundred yard mark of the quarter "Casey" began one of his wonderful sprints, tearing down the home stretch and breaking the college mile record by one-fifth of a second, his time being 4 min 39 4-5 sec.

Kane, the St. Lawrence hammer thrower, was the other record breaker in the meet, tossing the hammer 137 ft. 4 in. breaking a previous record he had made by about 2 ft.

All of the track men proved themselves to be a necessary part to Midd's great track machine, every man making at least one point.

At the last event the score stood 60

EDITORIAL

Morituri Salutamus

This issue marks the last under the direction of The Board that has served for over a year, for the new members have already been elected and next week begin their term of office. For these, our successors, we earnestly desire the same support granted us. Their way is not easy, the reward is not great, but it is with a full recognition of all it involves that the New Board is entering upon the next Campus year.

When Richard Buffum, for two year Editor-in-Chief, wrote his last editorial he spoke of The Campus as the "most representative student organization," and asked the cooperation of all the other organizations to make our paper a true voice of the college. We feel that there has been a greater cooperation this year than ever before, and we thank all of you who have worked with us and for us. Even better team work is possible between the groups and it is this we are looking forward to for next year.

The goal toward which we have continually been striving is to make every one of you feel that The Campus is your paper, not a publication for the few who happen to be in charge of it. And as it is your paper in theory, make it so in reality; tell your views, write of the affairs that interest you. Get back of The Campus with all the enthusiasm that you have, and make it the best sort of a paper, yours and everybody's.

It is with a decided feeling of reluctance that we give up our work on The Board for although it hasn't always been easy, and we have sometimes been discouraged, it has been worth while, every minute of it. We can hand the work over to our new staff with a feeling that it is in good hands. They will work for our paper as we have, our aims will be and are their aims. In addition to this they are bringing new ideals and enthusiasms into the work, and with considerable expectation and pleasure we are looking forward to the best Campus ever put out. They can do it, we are sure of that, but their best is possible only if you are backing them all the time with your loyal support and interest. They will do their part; won't you do yours? The best luck in the world and all success to you, Middlebury Campus, in the year and years to come, and a long Middlebury cheer for the New Board.

Middlebury First

Careful thought and earnest work was put into the composition of the constitution of the Undergraduate Organization, produced by a representative committee and unanimously adopted by the men's college. The aim in reorganizing the student activities upon the basis set forth by this document is to produce a more loyal Middlebury spirit through earnest cooperation. Nominations for officers of this ungraduate body have already been made and elections will take place within the next week. It is the duty of each one of us to consider carefully those nominations, giving thought to the ability of each candidate to fill the office for which he is proposed. It is up to us to vote for the man whom we honestly believe to be best suited for the place and it is certainly no time to permit group prejudice to enter into our decisions. Naturally our impulses, as members of certain groups, will be to vote for our own friends regardless of their qualifications. But every honest man must admit that such a procedure would really serve neither the best interests of the group nor, what is more important, those of the college.

We have had "politics" enough at Midd and everyone of us should recognize the fact that the effort being put forth to crush this animal will fail if we do not make ourselves personall responsible for the issue. Let's be Middlebury men first!

PROCTOR, A TRUSTEE

The Campus is glad to present the following article, concerning Captain Redfield Proctor, who has recently become a trustee of Middlebury College.

Captain Proctor is the only surviving son of the late Senator Redfield Proctor. He was born at Proctor, April 13, 1879. He was educated at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, taking the course in mechanical engineering, and he is now a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. He has the honorary degree of master of arts from the University of Vermont.

Captain Proctor was a member of the Vermont House of Representatives at the sessions of 1912 and 1915 serving in the latter session as chairman of the Appropriations Committee. At the session of 1917 he was a member of the State Senate and chairman of the Finance Committee. During his term he resigned from the state Senate to enter the war, in which he served as a captain of engineers. He was discharged from the army in January last.

One of the principal managers of the Vermont Marble Company, Captain Proctor is also vice president of the Clarendon and Pittsford Railroad Company and president of the Proctor Trust Company. He is president of the Board of Trustees of the Vermont Sanatorium at Pittsford.

What Others Think

OPEN TO ALL

This department aims to be an absolutely impersonal current schedule of campus opinion upon subjects of intense interest. Communications intended for publication must be signed by the author but the name will be withheld upon request.

Dear Editor:

The college possesses a service flag which was proudly displayed in the Mead Chapel until last fall when it was removed for the purpose of changing the number of stars upon it. Evidently those who volunteered to finance and manage the change have forgotten their agreement. It seems to me that some measures in regard to it should be taken at once.

A. Critique.

Dear Editor:

Do I dream when I recall that women graduated in the Class of 1915? The invitation to graduates to attend the approaching Commencement would indeed suggest it. It is only men in uniform who will be welcomed. Yet, again am I mistaken! It is not men, but uniforms, to which Middlebury extends hospitality. To be sure, a uniform makes a better appearance on the campus if upheld by an automaton. Is it true that Middlebury desires only the glitter? I blush with shame!

An ignored alumna of "1915."

Dear Editor:

Throughout the entire year it has been a source of mingled shame and regret to the college girls that some of the furniture and other fixtures of Pearsons social hall were allowed to remain in so dilapidated a condition. The divan has been in dire need of new upholstery for months and the victrola has not been in usable condition except when coaxed into spasmodic action by someone with a taste for mechanics. The condition of the curtains need scarcely be dwelt upon.

Of course we know that to correct these deficiencies requires money but Commencement with its guests approaches and surely the social hall in such a state will not prove a very satisfactory advertisement for Midd. We would, therefore, like to inquire through the medium of your columns what steps can be taken by the students to improve this circumstance.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

For the speaker at the Commencement exercises this year, Middlebury will have one of the most famous platform orators of the United States, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick of New York. Dr. Fosdick has long been one of the most popular speakers at such colleges as Harvard, Yale, and Cornell and Middlebury is fortunate to secure him for this important occasion. He is a Professor at Union Theological Seminary and pastor of the First Presbyterian church of New York City. He w- come to Middlebury from the Silver Bay Conference.

The Sunday afternoon service will be a memorial service for the Middlebury men who have fallen in the great war. The address will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Charles E. Hesselgrave '93, divisional secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the famous 26th or Yankee Division.

Florence Millard, Janet Taylor and Grace Monty spent the week-end at Wesleyan College, Middletown, Conn., where they attended the Junior Week festivities.

TRUSTEE MEETING

Last Monday, May 12, a special meeting of the Board of Trustees was held at the office of James M. Gifford '77, in the Columbia Trust Co. building, 60 Broadway, New York. One of the important decisions was to proceed with the erection of the Porter hospital, provided the contractors' bids are within the amount available. A special committee was appointed and empowered to proceed with the building. Those named were Messrs. Weeks, Porter, Starr, Swift, and Proctor.

It is understood that the plans and specifications prepared by the architects, Trowbridge & Livingston, are now in the hands of builders for estimates.

An appropriation of $2,000 was made for lectures and entertainments for the academic year 1919-20. These will be arranged by the Student Life Committee.

An additional appropriation was made for instructors to take the places of Professors Burrage and Voter, granted leaves of absence for next year and for such additional instruction as may be found necessary by the Curriculum Committee. It is expected to secure assistance in the Departments of Biology and French and also to have an instructor in vocal culture and voice building.

The trustees authorized the organization of a section of the French school for foreign travel and study, under the European direction of Professor H. P. Williamson de Visme '96, with the Chateau de Soisy as headquarters in France.

Arrangements for the Victory Commencement were considered and invitations to several persons to receive honorary degrees were authorized. These names will be announced at Commencement.

Those attending the meeting were President Thomas and Messrs. Hepburn, Porter, Starr, Gifford, Abernethy, Kellogg, Twitchell, Swift, McCullough, and Wilds.

LT. COL. SCHINDEL AT MIDD

Lt. Col. S. J. Bayard Schindel, member of the General Staff of the U. S. Army and one of the framers of the law pertaining to the present R. O. T. C. No. G-049, reviewed the 44 cadets constituting the Middlebury College Company, Reserve Officers' Training Corps, on his annual tour of inspection Thursday, May 15.

Col. Bayard Schindel served as Brigadier-General in one of the western divisions at Camp Lewis, Washington, before the entrance of the United States into the recent war but early in 1917 he was recalled to the General Staff on which he had already served several years. His visiting the Eastern Colleges on the tour of inspection inst of the Department Commander is for the purpose of enabling him to get in touch with each of the institutions supporting an R. O. T. C. with the view of making recommendations relative to the continuance of the newly-established branch of the service.

CADET APPOINTMENTS

The work of the Middlebury R.O.T.C. at present consists of a 20-minute drill period between 7:30 and 8 a.m., 40 minutes devoted to athletics and a lecture hour once a week in the Hemicycle. Cadet-Captain Adkins has made the following appointments of non-commissioned officers:

1st Sergeant	R. E. McSweeney
Sergeants	L. E. Pierce
	L. H. Brown
Corporals	G. B. Thompson
	J. L. Lavin
	E. F. Stockwell

Nine elms have been planted around Hepburn Hall by Mrs. Mason in memory of the nine Midd men who died in the service during the last war.

NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL BOARD OFFERS TWO PRIZES

Two prize essay contests in Industrial Economics which have recently been announced may be of interest to Middlebury students. The first contest, which is to close July 1, 1919, is for a prize of $1,000 offered by the National Industrial Board for the best monograph on any one of the following subjects:

1. A practicable plan for representation of workers in determining conditions of work and for prevention of industrial disputes.
2. The major causes of unemployment and how to minimize them.
3. How can efficiency of workers be so increased as to make high wages economically practicable?
4. Should the State interfere in the determination of wage rates?
5. Should rate of wages be definitely based on the cost of living?
6. How can present systems of wage payments be so perfected and supplemented as to be most conducive to individual efficiency and to the contentment of workers?
7. The closed shop versus the open shop; their social and economic value compared.
8. Should trade unions and employers' associations be made legally responsible?

The Committee of Award is composed of: Frederick P. Fish, of Fish, Richardson and Neave, Boston, Chairman of the National Conference Board; Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, President of Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.; and Henry B. Towne, Chairman Yale and Towne Manufacturing Co., New York City.

The other contest, which was established through the generosity of Hart, Schaffner and Marx Company, would possibly be of more interest to college men in that it is divided into two classes. Class A includes any one without restriction who desires to compete and the prizes for the winner in this class are one of $1,000 and a second of $500. Class B, however, is limited to college undergraduates and the two successful students will receive $300 and $200 respectively. The subject of essays must be choesn from these topics:

1. On what economic basis can a League of Nations be permanently established?
2. The future of the food supply.
3. A study of the means and results of economic control by the Allies during the European War.
4. The effects of governmental action in the United States on the wages of labor.
5. The effect of price-fixing in the United States on the competitive system.
6. A study of the effects of paper money issues during the European War.

The Committee of Award is: Professor J. Lawrence Laughlin, University of Chicago, Chairman; Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Hon. Theodore E. Burton, New York City; Professor Edwin F. Gay, Howard University; and Hart, Schaffner and Marx of Chicago.

VARSITY NINE PRACTICING FOR TWO HARD GAMES

Practice for the varsity nine was continued last week in preparation for the two games Friday and Saturday of this week. On Friday the team will play Massachusetts Agricultural College on Porter Field and the day following the team will journey to Northfield where they will meet, for the second time in two weeks, the Norwich nine. In all probabilities Coach Keefe will use Elmer in Friday's game and save Hulihan for the Norwich contest. Last week's work consisted largely of batting practice the point in which the team as a whole is weakest.

When the game is called next month get ready to strike out that old enemy, Finals.

JOINT MEETING OF CLASSICAL AND MODERN LANG ASS'N

A joint conference of the Classical and Modern Language Associations of Vermont was held at Middlebury College on May 16 and 17, and was attended by a small but representative gathering. The first session opened with an address by Prof. Myrick of U. V. M. entitled "The Ancients and The Moderns—an Entente Cordiale." It emphasized the common peril to which all teachers of foreign languages are exposed through the attacks of modern materialists, and called attention to the great benefits which might accrue from heartier and closer cooperation between teachers of the Classics and teachers of French, Spanish and German.

Prof. Myrick was followed by Principal Abbott of Rutland, who spoke on "Present Conditions in the Teaching of Foreign Languages in the Schools." He made prominent the difficulty experienced by pupils of English parentage in learning other languages than their own, and the corresponding difficulty felt by teachers who have to teach such pupils foreign language. He brought out the vital necessity of having such teachers so thoroughly conversant with the language which they profess that they are able to think in it. Such proficiency can only be secured by long and arduous study not only in summer schools but also in foreign lands. Professor Abbott closed with the suggestion that School boards might find it profitable to pay the expenses of efficient teachers, who were willing to spend time in foreign study.

The first session closed with a lively discussion of the topic, "The Grading of Students in Language Work." Principal Tebbetts of Fair Haven dwelt on the fact that few teachers possess a fixed standard by which to judge the work of their pupils. Prof. Robinson of Middlebury advocated much greater rigidity in marking grammar exercises and translations. Miss Cyr of Burlington spoke of the value of occasionally inserting exercises where faults, however trivial, would cause the pupils' entire work to be judged a failure. The general sense of the assembly seemed to be that although the creation of a higher standard of marking was highly desirable, it must nevertheless be introduced gradually and with caution.

In the evening, some thirty teachers sat down to supper in Hepburn Commons, and afterwards adjourned to the social hall where speeches were made by President Thomas, Professor Wright Dr. Strout, Principal Colburn, and Mrs. B. G. Thomas of Woodstock.

The final session began with two separate business meetings. The Classical meeting listened to a paper by Prof. Bassett of the University of Vermont, which was read by his colleague, Prof. Ogle. The author proved conclusively that the traditional understanding of the word "caesura," as applied to Greek and Latin verse, is thoroughly faulty. The only compulsory pause in a Classical verse is such as is required by the sense.

At the Modern Language meeting a summary was presented of the annua meeting of the New England Association at Boston, and the work of the committee on Modern Language Work in the Junior High Schools was presented and discussed. Several articles in the report were debated and afterwards adopted with slight change of wording. The consideration of the remainder of the report was po until the fall meeting of the association. At 9:30 o'clock the two associations reassembled in joint session, and Prof. Carpenter of the University of Vermont read a paper on "English Stage Versions of Faust." The first part of "Faust" became popular in England at an early date and the success of Bounod's opera enhanced this popularity. Not until comparatively late did English critics come to see that the second part is equally essential to an understanding of the character of the hero.

A discussion on "Adjuncts to Language Teaching" brought out the value possessed by postcards, newspapers, games, riddles, and dramatic performances in stimulating interest in the peoples whose language pupils are learning.

The conference closed with a paper by Prof. M. R. Sanford of Middlebu College on "Internationalism and a World Language." The speaker showed the astonishing increase that has taken place in the number of words that our language contains in the years since the publication of the first edition of Vebster's Unabridged this increase is one of over 500 per cent. All languages have suffered invasion, and the interesting question was raised, "which of the invading elements is destined to prevail, and give us a world language?" Prof. Sanford's own prediction seemed to favor what he called "American English." He fully disbelieved that any mechanically constructed jargon, like Esperanto, could ever come universal, or even widespread adoption.

The conference adjourned at noon, after voting to hold a similar joint conference next year at Burlington.

APPEARANCE OF KALEIDOSCOPE DELAYED UNTIL JUNE 10

Because of unprecedented delay on the part of Howard-Wesson Company, engravers for the "Kaleidoscope," the book will probably not appear before June 10th. The date originally set by the Board was June 1st and things were working on scheduled time up to two weeks ago when return of proof of half tones began to lag. College work is a specialty of the Howard-Wesson Company and the fact that no year books were started before January 1st has forced upon this concern an undue amount of work during the past few weeks. Labor conditions have also been a contributing factor in the delay. Although the plans of the Board have been upset in a measure, the reasons for this tardiness must be recognized.

In spite of this delay, however, the publication of this year's "Kaleidoscope" will be completed in record time as in past years the work has normally taken up the greater part of nine months. The elections for the consolidated Board from the classes of 1919 and 1920 were held early in February and in less than two months all of the copy was in the hands of the engravers and printers.

The Dartmouth "Aegus" and the Vermont "Ariel" are being handled by the same concern as the "Kaleidoscope." It is understood that the "Aegus" will appear at about the same time as the "Kaleidoscope" while the "Ariel" is not expected to be ready before late in June.

Lack of consideration on the part of many of the student subscribers has not been by any means conducive to furthering the producton of the "Kaleidoscope" by the contractors. Fully a quarter of the pledges are unpaid and the Board can accept no criticism from those who have not fulfilled this obligation. A definite attempt to collect unpaid pledges will be made by the Business Manager this week and names of those who have not met them will be posted.

FOUR TRACK MEN LEAVE FOR N. E. INTERCOLLEGIATES

Four members of the Varsity track team including Capt. Jones will leave at noon tomorrow for Boston, Mass., where they will compete in the New England Intercollegiates to be held on Tech Field Saturday. The meet is held annually under the auspices of Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is attended by representatives from all of the larger colleges in the East with the exceptions of Yale, Harvard and Dartmouth.

Comments on the meet by several Boston newspapers prophesy a thrilling race in the mile run. In addition to Captain Jones who ran a close second to "Johnny" Overton of Yale in the Springfield meet last June, entrants from Williams, Wesleyan and University of Maine whose time averages about 4:40 insure a close finish. The other members of the team who will make the trip are Hebard, entered in the broad jump, Potratz and Howe both of whom will compete in certain of the weight events. Coach Brown and Manager Holbrook will accompany the team.

PRACTICE TEACHING REORGANIZED AS DOUBLE COURSE

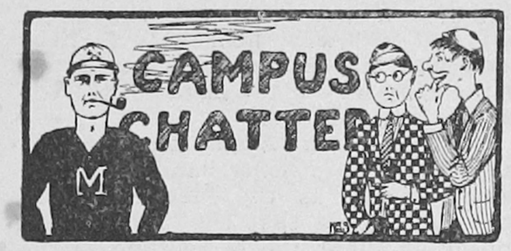
The attention of the juniors who expect to teach is called to the notice which has appeared on the bulletin-board of first-floor chapel regarding the change in the credits given for Pedagogy 13-14. According to the new plan practice-teaching in the local high school will count as a double course, six credits a semester being given for the work. In addition to the regular class work, however, there will also be required one Saturday hour for conference with the supervisor of the work and not more than two hours a week of outside work with individual pupils.

It is hoped that the new plan will not only add to the attractiveness of the course as a means of acquiring credits, but that it will also increase its value as a means of obtaining experience under constant and competent supervision.

RADICAL AND CONSERVATIVE COMPARED BY PRES. THOMAS

At the Vesper Service Sunday afternoon, President Thomas gave counsel concerning the radical and the conservative, the progressive and the reactionary. He showed that even as the new testament gives evidence of the conflict between these two principles, so we today are constantly confronted with decisions to be made between adherence to the old order or the adventure of new thought and progress. Dr. Thomas advised that all things should be measured and all suggestions valued, not by age but by truth.

The Campus has recently been advised that the New York School of Philanthropy has changed its name to The New York School of Social Work.



Doris Pinney '22 has been entertaining her parents from Dalton, Mass.

President Thomas spoke before the Sunday Noon Club last Sunday on the subject "The Church of the Future and its Relation to War."

Frances Wiley, Alice Corttis and Lucy Calhoun spent the week-end at Northfield. While there they attended the War-Hoop Dance given at Norwich University.

The Banshee pledges gave a clever little farce representing graduation from an old-time college, in Pearsons social hall, May 7. Many "local hits" were delivered by the budding actresses, to the amusement of the large and appreciative audience. The proceeds are to go to the Silver Bay Fund.

The vesper speaker next Sunday will be Rev. C .O. Judkins, pastor of the Methodist Church at Glens Falls, N. Y. Dr. Judkins has accomplished the no mean task of converting a rather inactive parish into one of the most up-to-date and modern small-city churches in the east. He is also a thinker of some note.

Instructors in the Chemistry Department are becoming somewhat worried lest their supply of unknown substances for analysis be so seriously depleted as to necessitate the discontinuance of qualitative analysis. The reason given for the alarm is that some students have adopted a new method of procedure and have eaten portions of the samples.

2-3—56 1-3 in favor of St. Lawrence. They did not expect to take first in this event but all they needed was a secon place to carry the day and they felt confident that Keegan could throw the discus further than any Midd man with the exception of Potratz. However, when the finals were over it was found that Midd had won all three places and that the meet belonged to the Blue and White by a score of 65 1-3 to 60 1-3.

The score was as follows:

100 yard dash—1st Bird (L), 2nd Caldwell (L) 3rd Farnham (M) Time 10 4-5.

One mile run— 1st (Jones (M), 2nd Howard (L) 3rd Donelly (M) Time 4m. 39 4-5 sec.

Shot put—1st Sweet (L), 2nd Robinson (M), 3rd Potratz (M) Distance 33 ft. 5 in.

120 yard hurdles—1st Robinson (M), 2nd Bird (L) 3rd Howe (M), time 18 4-5 sec.

Pole vault—1st Keegan (L) 2nd Harris (L) 3rd Gollnick (M) Height 8 ft. 10 1-2 in.

440 yard dash—1st Caldwell (L) 2nd Ellison (L), 3rd Farnham (M) Time 56 1-2 sec.

High Jump—1st Hebard (M) tie for second Thomas (M) Sweet (L) 3rd Shern (L) Height 5ft. 2 in.

Final score: Midd 65 1-3, St. Lawrence 60 2-3.

filled by Percy E. Fellows as Business Manager and Marie A. Kilbride as Assistant Business Manager. All of the other members of the editorial and business staffs not affected by graduation or by promotion were reelected in their former capacities. Samuel T. Ginsburg was added to the editorial staff as an associate editor while Gertrude V. Moore and Edith Cowles were elected to the business department as associate managers. Bernice Clapp and Julia Sullivan were made assistant associate business managers.

The present issue is the last to be published by the retiring Board, next week's edition of the Campus being the first to appear under the new regime. In addition to ex-Editor-in-Chief Joseph P. Kasper, who has served in that capacity during the past year except while absent during service in the U. S. Naval forces, the members of the editorial staff to terminate their work today are Ella F. Fellowes, Assist. Editor-in-Chief during the past year who ran the paper during the absence of Mr. Kasper and Hazel Grover who has also been connected with The Campus for several years. Eleanor Layton is the third member of the business department to terminate her work with The Campus today. She has served on the staff as associate business manager for several years.

Dexter H. Mead, of Cornwall, Conn., was initiated into the Middlebury Chapter of Delta Upsilon Fraternity last Monday evening.

THE SUMMER SESSION

The following courses are announced for the Eleventh Summer Session in the departments of Political Science and History. Assistant Professor Ryland will carry the work in history and Professor Karl F. Geiser of Oberlin will give the courses in Comparative Government and International Relations.

United States since 1865. A survey of the problems resulting from the Civil War and Reconstruction: economic, judicial, and political government, international relations and the participation of the United States in the recent war.

The States of Europe. A rapid survey of the history of the states of Western Europe since 1870; causes of the great war, immediate and more remote, the aims of the belligerents, as stated during the war and embodied in the peace settlement.

Comparative Government. A study of the political systems of the leading European powers, including England, with special reference to the relation of government to popular control. Attention will be given to the changes in some of the European states as a result of the war and to the organization of the new states recognized by the Peace Conference.

International Relations. A brief survey of international questions during the last two decades, the subjects, objects, and methods of diplomacy, and the development of permanent international agencies for the maintenance of peace.

Professor Geiser is a graduate of Upper Iowa University, and received his doctor's degree at Yale in 1900. In 1905-6 he was a student in the University of Berlin. From 1900 to 1908 he held the chair of Political Science in Upper Iowa State Teachers' College. He has taught in Summer Sessions at the University of Illinois, University of Minnesota, and Columbia University. Since 1908 he has been professor of Political Science at Oberlin College. He holds for the present year the Carnegie Teacher's Fellowship in International Law at Harvard University. He is joint author with Macy of "Government of Iowa", and is author of "Redemptioners in Pennsylvania", "Autocracy versus Democracy", is a contributing editor of the Cyclopedia of American Government, as well as a writer of historical and political articles for various journals.

CHI PSI AND D. U. VICTORS IN FRATERNITY GAMES

	G.	W.	L.	Pc.
Chi Psi	2	2	0	1,000
Delta Kappa Epsilon	1	1	0	1,000
Delta Upsilon	1	1	0	1,000
Alpha Sigma Phi	1	0	1	.000
Neutrals	1	0	1	.000
Kappa Delta Rho	2	0	2	.000

The Kappa Delta Rho team suffered their second defeat of the season in the Interfraternity Baseball League, when they met the Chi Psi nine last Tuesday on Porter Field at 6:30 p.m. The game was rather one-sided for the "Syke" pitchers, Kelley and Haskins held the "Kappa Delt" batters well in hand while their team mates piled up a comfortable collection of hits.

The Chi Psi team started with a rush sending P. Ross, Kelley and Brown across the plate in the first inning and followed up the advantage by adding one run in each succeeding inning except the fifth. Meanwhile, Kelley held the "Kappa Delts" scoreless until the fifth when he was relieved by Haskins, whose hurling was not as airtight. In these last three innings Harris, Pierce, and Whitmore scored their team's only runs, making the final score 7-3 in favor of Chi Psi.

The game was punctuated with good clean hitting but was marred by frequent errors, the "Sykes" being the greater offenders with thirteen errors against them. Horner's running catch that robbed Brown of a sure hit in the sixth, was a feature of the game.

The score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	T
Chi Psi	3	1	1	1	0	1	x	—7
K D R	0	0	0	0	2	0	1	—3

Delta Upsilon—Independents

Delta Upsilon won an 8-3 victory over the Independent nine in the third game of the Interfraternity series played Tuesday evening May 13 on Porter Field. The game was called in the first of the sixth inning in order to enable players and spectators to attend the Union Meeting in the Gymnasium. The contest was practically decided in the first inning when the non-fraternity men's outfit went to pieces and allowed five of the opposing team to cross the plate.

Leach, twirling for Delta Upsilon pitched good ball throughout the game and held his opponents hitless. Sincerbox on the receiving end for the fraternity team made several good stops while Miske playing with the Neutral team made several clever stops in the first few innings which robbed his opponents of seemingly sure hits. Errors were frequent with both teams, the "official" score crediting both nines with five apiece.

The score by innings:

Delta Upsilon	5	1	1	1	0—8
Independents	0	0	0	3	0—3

COLLEGE TO HAVE NINE NEW TENNIS COURTS??

The first start on the 1919 tennis season will be made sometime during this or next week when an inter-college tournament will be held for the purpose of selecting men for the Varsity. Considerable work has already been completed on the courts but the rain of the past week has softened the clay to such an extent that their use will not be possible for several days.

The entries for the tournament though not as numerous as was hoped for are expected to bring some good material to light. The backing which the management has already had by the under-graduates in the work on the courts indicates enough interest in the sport to warrant the arranging of a good schedule of meets if possible. Mgr. Belden has made several unsuccessful attempts to secure dates with other colleges. Worcester Tech, Norwich and Vermont are among the colleges with which he is now corresponding.

Before the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the College held the first of this week in New York City it was rumored on the campus that there was a possibility of that body's taking action in the line of laying out nine tennis courts in the rear of the New Chapel in order to insure ample accommodation for those interested in the game. What action was taken in regard to this matter has not yet been officially announced. The three courts west of the Chemistry building are still in need of a coating of clay but unless the appropriation authorized for the season is increased these necessary repairs will be impossible.

The drawings for the men's tournament for the championship of the college have been completed and the first round is to be played off on or before Wednesday, May 21. Courts number one and number three have been put into fairly good shape and last Friday a good crowd turned out to enjoy the first games of the season, evidencing the popularity of tennis at Midd.

The first round matched: Canfield-Hebard, Rothermel-Judd, Gollnick-Bachulus, E. B. Ross-Carpentier; Hinchey-Brautigam, Holbrook-Thomas, Jones-Houghton, Parker-M. Wright, Lane-C. S. White, Prescott-Cohen.

NEW HONOR FOR MR. HEPBURN

The election of Mr. Hepburn to the presidency of the University Club of New York, which occurred in April, is a fresh testimony of the high esteem in which he is held in those spheres which pertain to the scholarly, rather than the financial or economic interests of life where his especial success has been won. The bestowal of this office is the highest honor in the gift of the Club, and it is noteworthy that whereas it has usually been held by graduates of the larger universities, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and the like, Mr. Hepburn holds it as a son of Middlebury College.

ATTENDANCE AT MIKADO REHEARSALS TO BE REQUIRED

The rehearsals for the Mikado are now being held regularly Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the gymnasium, and the cast is rapidly getting into form for the presentation at Commencement. The dramatic end of the undertaking is in the hands of Professor Burrage and Miss Young, who are already beginning to put on the finishing touches. Up to the present time the attendance at rehearsals on the part of the members of the chorus has been somewhat spasmodic, but a plan has been made to remedy this condition and to insure an adequately trained chorus. At all the remaining rehearsals attendance will be taken, and too many unexcused absences will bar any student from participation in the final performance.

The annual elections of the Student Government Association of the Women's College were held on Friday, May 16. The results were as follows: President, Elsa Holmstrom; Vice-President, Buena Anderson; Treasurer, Florence Millard; Secretary, Carleta Ottman; Fire Chief, Janet Taylor.

Middlebury College

Eleventh Summer Session

The attention of college students who intend to teach modern languages is called to the unusual facilities provided by the French School (July 1–August 13) and the Spanish School (July 5–August 16) in the Summer Session. The graduates of more than fifty of the leading American colleges and universities have attended previous sessions of these schools, in the work of which Middlebury has established a reputation that now extends throughout the country. The registration in each school is limited, and but few rooms remain unassigned in either the French or the Spanish House. Students wishing to join either school should apply at once to Assistant-Professor Davison, who can supply also any additional information.

NORWICH DEFEATS MIDD ON TWO HITS

Middlebury's near-scores came in the first and fourth innings. Jenne, the first man up drew a base on balls, advanced to second on a passed ball by Hyland and took third a moment later on Hinchey's sacrifice. He remained here, however, during the rest of the frame for Lavin, the third man, fanned and Hulihan was retired on a grounder to third base.

With one out in the fourth, Hulihan rapped out a double to left field and gained third on a wild throw by Vitty to second. The Norwich pitcher redeemed himself a moment later by picking up Myers' easy roller and holding Hulihan on third just long enough to enable him to throw the runner out at first. Hulihan was tagged out at the plate when he attempted to steal in.

The university team's scores were made in the second, sixth and eighth innings, two being credited to the last. In the second Hyland got in the way of one of Hulihan's fast moving curves and was given his base. He stole second at the first opportunity and reached third on a wild pitch by Hulihan. Myers dropped the ball on Matthews' third strike and on his tardy throw to first Hyland crossed the plate.

Haynes, the first man up in the sixth inning, got on first when Ross muffed the former's pop fly in back of third base. He advanced to second on a passed ball by Myers and took third on Waite's single. A wild pitch by Hulihan made it possible for him to score a moment later, bringing in the second Norwich run.

Again in the eighth inning, Haynes reached first, having been given bas on balls, stole second and scored on Waite's long drive into deep center field which enabled the latter to make a complete circuit of the bases. The hit was without a doubt the longest one on record for Porter Field this season.

MEN NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT AND COUNCIL

Nominations for the Council were made as follows: the three seniors receiving the largest number of nominations; the three juniors likewise; and the two sophomores receiving the most nominations.

In the nominations made for junior members of the Student Council four men are candidates instead of the prescribed three owing to a tie between Keppler and Elmer.

The names of all the above nominees will remain posted until Tuesday night, May 27th, when a meeting will be held and these nominations will be voted upon and elections made, by secret ballot. After these elections have been made, following the provisions of the constitution, the members will nominate and elect a vice-president, a secretary and a treasurer. For these, nominations will be made from the floor, a motion to close nominations is not in order until three nominations have been made, in each case. The elections will be by secret ballot, from these nominations.

ALPHA CHI DANCE

On Saturday evening, Alpha Zeta of Alpha Chi held a May Dance in the McCullough Gymnasium. A May Pole Dance took the place of the usual Grand March. The idea of a May Dance was carried out by the gingham dresses worn by the girls, the refreshments served picnic style in gala colored May Baskets, and appropriate favors.

The patronesses were: Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Bryant, Miss Ross, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Mellen, Mrs. Wiley, and Miss Carrigan.

The guests were Ruth Clough, Pi Beta Phi; Eleanor Layton, Sigma Kappa; Emily Millard, Delta Delta Delta; Independents, Alice Ryan; Louise Reynolds '18, Proctor; Dorothy Brown '18, Johnson; Marjorie Cota, Burlington; Gail Wilson, Rutland; Louise Hurley, White River Junction; Effie Deans, North Adams, Mass., and Reba Maxfield, Brandon.
